Not So Famous Dog Tales by Bryan Davis

The Barkley family is on the hunt for a better job for the dad, Steve. They want to find something the whole family can do together, so the first four books have him pursuing different types of jobs with wife, daughter, and son by his side. The fifth book is mainly about which job sticks!

Meanwhile, their varied skills are put to good use as they come upon dogs and people needing help. Visit keenlykept.com/books/davidogtales for all content considerations and other story details.

01: All Dogs Go to 7-Eleven

A man who can understand "dog" helps a German shepherd find his owner after becoming separated in a building fire. The whole family pitches in with creativity and enthusiasm.

02: Mission Impawssible

The Barkley family is summoned (by a golden retriever) out to a lighthouse island where their help is greatly needed. They battle crows and cats, brush up on their rock climbing skills, and work together to save a life.

03: If You Give a Dog a Dictionary

Readers are welcomed into a nursing home, where a border collie's owner is recovering. Steve's scheduled job shadowing quickly morphs into a crime-solving affair which involves multiple pets, quick-thinking humans, and plenty of comedic relief.

04: A Series of Unfortunate Dogs

It's not just one dog that needs help in the fourth book! Several dogs' belongings keep disappearing, so they ask Steve and his family to hunt down the thief. Young readers will be surprised who it is!

05: The Wizard of Dogs

After a dramatic rescue from drowning, the community comes together to thank the Barkley family in a big way. This final book is busy fun as loose ends are tied up and dreams begin coming true.
